Bulletins

Cleveland, July 19 (AP)—A mine-detector probe of the beach and Lake Erie shallows behind a bay village home has failed to turn up the instrument that chopped up the pretty face of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard.

Detectives and an army sergeant wielded the mine detector yesterday behind the sprawling home where the 31-year-old wife of an osteopath was found murdered in her blood-soaked bed July 4.

Detectives continued to run down tips given by various persons who claimed to have information relating to the case, but none has so far yielded any positive results.

Dead Are Buried

Chestertown, Md., July 19 (AP)—Chestertown, rocked for 90 minutes Friday by explosions at a munitions and fireworks plant, has begun burying its dead.

Funeral services were held yesterday for the first of the 11 persons killed in the disaster at the Kent Manufacturing Co. Three more will be buried today.

And tomorrow, five bodies so badly mutilated by the explosions that they could not be identified will be laid to rest at a mass funeral.

Meanwhile, the American Red Cross has closed down its clearance list, announcing that all survivors of the blast had been located.

A small explosion in a powder drying oven has been blamed for triggering the series of blasts that virtually leveled the sprawling plant.

Says Dewey 'Fed Up'

Washington, July 19 (AP)—The Washington Post-Times says Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York is "fed up" with his job and has told friends he has no intention of running for a fourth term.

The paper, in a story written by Edward T. Follard, said last night that Dewey was "tired of the gloomy executive mansion at Albany, which has been his residence for nearly 12 years, and he longs to spend all his non-working hours on his 486-acre farm at Pawling."

The story said the governor "said as much to friends" at last week's 46th annual governor's conference at Bolton Landing.

Dewey was at his farm and not available for comment.

Sally Is Thriving

Hugh Town, Scilly Isles, July 19 (AP)—A photographer who got a closeup shot yesterday of Sally, the seal with a tire around her neck, said the animal seems to be thriving despite her strange necktie.

"The tire does not stop her from diving," said Robert Haswell, who makes pictures for the Daily Herald. "The only risk is that if she grows fatter, the tire might choke her. But she looks full from already—about 6 feet long and weighing around 500 pounds."

Fishermen spotted Sally three weeks ago. An inspector at the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has since made repeated attempts to capture her and take the tire off. Haswell found her sleeping peacefully, with her flippers folded over her stomach, on a rock in St. Mary's Bay. He took the photograph from a boat less than 30 feet away.

How Sally managed to get the tire jammed around her neck is her secret. A roll of fat is holding it in place.

Too Hot for Practice

Kansas City, Kan., July 19 (AP)—The fire department has given up its plans to burn some houses today for practice. Weather is too hot.

Firemen were given the job of burning 11 houses to clear a right-of-way for a new street. They could get some fire-fighting practice while doing so.

They burned two, and fire director Louis Spangle said that was enough—until the weather cools off.

The temperature climbed to 111 yesterday.

Red Objections Rejected

Tehran, Iran, July 19 (AP)—Iran has firmly rejected Soviet objections to her joining U. S.-sponsored military alliances. In a blunt note, the Iranians told the Kremlin they have the sovereign right to take any measures necessary to safeguard Iran's "security, defense, independence and integrity."

Foreign Minister Abdolkarim Entezam delivered the memorandum yesterday to Soviet Ambassador Anatoli Lavrentiev. After receiving it, the red-faced Russian swept angrily out of the office, brushed reporters aside and drove off without comment.

The note was in reply to a Soviet complaint made 10 days ago that Iranian Premier Fazlollah Zahedi had given U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson "certain assurances concerning the participation of Persia (Iran) in the military measures of the U. S. A. in the Near and Middle East."

The United States would like to enlist Iran in the recent Pakistan-Turkey alliance, though no formal invitation has been issued. Observers here think Iran may line up with the west eventually, but only after a successful settlement of her oil dispute with Britain.

Carriers, Others Sail

Manila, July 19 (AP)—Two U. S. aircraft carriers and four destroyers are departing the Philippine training area "for an unknown destination," a reliable source said today.

The source declined to be identified. There was immediate speculation that the ships might assist in an Indochina evacuation.

The carriers Boxer and Hornet and the destroyers Stembel, Hanson, Laws and Tausig are anchored in the Manila area. The carriers frequently have been in and out of this harbor in what the U. S. Navy officially calls "fair weather maneuvers."

Full Linkage Planned

New York, July 19 (AP)—The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. announced today it planned to construct an underwater telephone cable system linking all 48 states with Alaska.

The proposed system will stretch 800 nautical miles between Port Angeles, Wash., and Ketchikan, Alaska. American Telephone said the project should be completed by 1956. It will provide for both public and defense purposes, "a speedier means of telephone communications between Alaska and the United States proper," the company's statement said.

Telephone service between Alaska and the U. S. main is now provided over 13 radio and land line circuits which the company said were inadequate to handle equipment and estimated future business.

The company said it had filed an application with the Federal Communications Commission in Washington covering the plans.

Hoffman Check Goes On

Newark, N. J., July 19 (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner says the state is working without letup in its efforts to learn the full story of former Gov. Harold G. Hoffman's financial operations.

Mid-U. S. Boils In Fierce Heat

Extended Wave Kills 237 Persons; 116 Recorded at Fort Scott

(By The Associated Press)

Smothering heat continued in a full rolling boil in the nation's middle section today, after a brief cool period late last week, and there was little relief in sight.

The toll of the extended heat wave, which had only a brief respite, had reached 237 lives Sunday when temperatures from central Texas and northern Louisiana to southwestern North Dakota climbed generally into 100-plus figures.

Scattered thunderstorms tempered the heat in the Ohio Valley and near the Canadian border, but west and south of those sections temperatures matched or exceeded the normal summer extremes of the adjoining desert southwest.

Sunday's Deaths
Sunday deaths attributable to the heat included three at Fort Smith, Ark., where the mercury mounted to 108; three in Southern California, where readings ranged up to more than 100 in the San Joaquin Valley, and five in Oklahoma which had such steaming weather as Oklahoma City's 105 and Tulsa's 110.

The day's peak was 116 at Fort Scott, Kan. It was 111 at Kansas City and 112 at St. Louis.

Other samplings in the heat belt Sunday included 106 at Quincy, Ill., and Presidio, Texas; 104 at Memphis; 101 at Indianapolis; 100 at Omaha, Rapid City, S. D., and Dickinson, N. D.

Showers and thunderstorms were confined mostly to the Rocky Mountain region, western Kansas and Nebraska, the northern Great Lakes area and New England.

Away from the stifling blanket of hot air down the center of the nation, it was generally pleasant with temperatures in the 80s.

Catastrophic War Seen by Premier

Claims Southeast Asia Likely Fuse; Gives 4-Point Program

Rangoon, Burma, July 19 (AP)—Premier U Nu declared today the British-American and Chinese-Russian power blocs are heading for a catastrophic war.

"The chances of World War 3 have not abated," he told a mass rally. "On the contrary, I feel they are on the increase. Present hostility between America and the People's Republic of China is far more intense than that existing between the three Axis powers and the western democracies in World War 2."

U Nu said he does not think the next war—if it ever breaks out—will start in Europe.

Says Burma Neutral

"Southeast Asia is considered the likely fuse for the conflagration," he told 10,000 government workers and trade unionists jammed into the Aung San sports stadium here.

"Burma's views are those of a completely neutral nation unclouded by prejudices."

He advised the western powers to "give special consideration to the views of the south-east Asian countries on defense."

"Western blood need not be shed in countering aggression in that area," he said. "Just make (Continued on Page 10, Col. 8)

Mrs. Small Says She Wants Only to Start Forgetting

Detroit, July 19 (AP)—"I just want to start forgetting," said the trim, dark-eyed wife of Dr. Kenneth B. Small, the handsome Detroit dentist found innocent by reason of insanity in the slaying of her suitor.

While her dentist-husband was attending church services in his cell at Allegan, awaiting further disposition of his case, Mrs. Edith Small held an interview yesterday with reporters in the couple's home in a fashionable northwest Detroit section.

"I just don't know what will happen to our marriage," she said. "But whatever happens, it will be what is best for the children."

The couple has three sons—

Steve, 7; Billy, 4 and Clifford, 2.

Mrs. Small appeared listless as she sat in the living room, while cars of curious drove slowly past the house. She was wearing a blue denim sun dress and on her finger was the sapphire ring given to her by the slain Jules M. Lack, 45-year-old New York playboy-industrialist.

The 30-year-old brunette said she and her husband would remain separated while they undergo psychiatric treatment. "We both need treatment," she said.

While the Allegan County Circuit Court jury was weighing the evidence before returning the verdict early Saturday, Mrs. Small was in South Haven, some (Continued on Page 12, Col. 2)

Senator Resumes Red Chase, First Since Hearings

McCarthy Has as Target Defense Plants in Boston; Censure May Come

Washington, July 19 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), sitting as a one-man subcommittee, took up his public pursuit of Communists today for the first time since the McCarthy army hearings sidetracked him.

His target was subversives in defense plants in the Boston area. His witness: James W. Glatius who said he joined the Communist party as a counter-spy for the FBI.

McCarthy launched the hearings despite: 1. Opposition from a majority of his seven-member subcommittee on grounds there should be a staff "house-cleaning" before any new official activity.

2. A pending move by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) to censure him for the way he has conducted hearings in the past. This is due to come up on the Senate floor tomorrow, but Senate GOP leader Knowland (Calif.) indicated today he would try to push it aside.

Knowland said he was concerned that lengthy debate on the censure would wreck the plans for Congress to adjourn at the end of this month.

Today's hearing was in the caucus room in the Senate office building—the same big room in which the hearings were held (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

French Unionists Push Mop-Up Against Reds

Hanoi, Indochina, July 19 (AP)—Some 5,000 French Union troops, spearheaded by tanks, pushed mop-up operations today against a Vietminh guerrilla base only 18 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The French reported 28 rebels killed and 13 captured in the push, which met only slight opposition.

A spokesman said 215 rebels were killed early Sunday when a rebel battalion charged into French tanks, machinegun and rifle fire north of Hung Yen.

Yesterday's action came when a rebel battalion operating inside the dwindling Red River Delta defenses around Hung Yen launched an attack on a small village.

French gunners who had been expecting the attack opened fire when the rebels were less than 10 yards away forcing the enemy to flee.

French losses at Hung Yen were described as "very light." Night flying B-26 bombers rained the northern and southwestern borders of the Red River Delta last night, pounding Vietminh bases and ammunition dumps.

A French spokesman said more than 70 tons of explosives were unloaded on bases stretching from Yen Bay, 75 miles northwest of Hanoi, to Phun Hoquan, 45 miles south of Hanoi, and on a string of small munition dumps between Tuyen Quang and Thai Nguyen, 50 miles northwest of the war capital.

Other planes hit rebel guerrilla bases inside French defense lines, about 25 miles south, west and north of Hanoi.

A total of 160 missions dumped some 200 tons of bombs on the rebels before dawn today the French reported.

Here in Hanoi, between 2,000 and 3,000 Vietnamese gathered in front of the opera house today for a brief demonstration against any partition of their country by the Geneva Conference.

After cheering several short speeches, a delegation handed U. S. Consul Turner Cameron a petition addressed to President Eisenhower, because "we just wanted the President and people of America to know our position."

It was the mildest of several anti-partition rallies held in Hanoi and Saigon in recent weeks.

Between 10,000 and 12,000 slogan-shouting Vietnamese paraded through Saigon yesterday denouncing partition. The demonstration was called to coincide with the climax of the Geneva talks aimed at achieving an Indochina cease-fire.

Workers Go to Jobs

Oak Ridge, Tenn., July 19 (AP)—Hundreds of AFL construction workers returned to work on two strike-bound atomic plant projects today following a back-to-work plea from union leaders. Other hundreds again refused to cross picket lines thrown up by striking AFL laborers in defiance of a court order banning picketing near the jobs. There was no immediate estimate of the total returning to work. Sheriff deputies stood by at least three of the six gates to the plants' area at the request of the atomic energy commission to "insure employees reporting to work are permitted to enter their work areas."

Several nieces and nephews also survive. Mr. Melville was well-known in Kingston as a plumber at which trade he has worked for many years. For several years prior to his illness he was employed by the C. Hiltbrant Dry Dock Co. Mr. Melville served his country in World War 2 where he spent several years in the U. S. Army Air Force. He was a member of Kingston Post 150, American Legion, which will conduct ritualistic services in his memory Tuesday at the Jensen & Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, at 9:00 a. m. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's Church where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Serum Is Rushed

Vienna, Austria, July 19 (AP)—The U. S. Army rushed typoid serum for 10,000 persons in flood areas in Austria over the weekend after an appeal for assistance. Escorted by military police, a U. S. consulate car drove the vaccine from the 100th U. S. Field Hospital at Salzburg to waiting Austrian officials in the area of last week's overflow. Local supplies of vaccine had been exhausted in the hard-hit villages of Goldworth, Alkoven and Mitterkirchen. When it was feared that typhoid and paratyphoid might break out, aid was requested by Dr. Ludwig Bernaschek, deputy governor of upper Austria.

Favors More Traveling

New York, July 19 (AP)—It would be good for the United States if its citizens did more traveling abroad, says the National Assn. of Manufacturers. The association announced last night that a resolution adopted by the board of directors was to help the "friendly" foreign countries to be enabled to earn as much dollar exchange as possible by foreign travel so they can buy U. S. products. The association said American foreign travel expenditures reached a record one billion dollars last year and it should be twice as much.

Calls Job 'Professional'

New York, July 19 (AP)—"A neatly-done, professional job," commented a Brooklyn police official as he looked over a smashed bank vault from which weekend burglars stole $13,000 to $15,000 in change. The big safe, used for coins only, was not protected by alarm and time-lock systems as was the bank's other vault in which bills were stored and which the safe-cracker left undisturbed. The thieves took 40 bags of coins. Bank officials said they will not know the exact amount of the loss until an inventory is taken.

Would Strip McCarthy

Providence, R. I., July 19 (AP)—The national executive committee of Young Democrats of America has passed a resolution urging the U. S. Senate to strip Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) of his committee chairmanship. The resolution, passed yesterday at the final session of a three-day meeting, said McCarthy has created "fear and suspicion" throughout the country in his hunt for Communists. The resolution also censured his "abuse of scientists" and said he had attempted to alienate this country's western allies.

Won't Hike Fares

New York, July 19 (AP)—Hugh J. Casaravita, chairman of the Transit Authority, said yesterday that wage increases of 6 1/2 cents to 11 cents an hour won by the CIO Transport Workers Union (TWU) affecting 37,000 city transit workers "definitely will not result in a rise" in the 15-cent subway fare. He said "it definitely will not be necessary to increase subway fares in the light of the union contract agreed upon recently or any other contract in the near future." "Barring war or some other drastic change in the economy now unforeseen the 15-cent subway fare will remain," he added.

Two Are in Jail

New York, July 19 (AP)—Federal Judge J. Skelly Wright today postponed until Aug. 2 the trial of former dock union boss Joseph P. Ryan on charges of accepting $2,500 from a trucking concern in violation of the Taft-Hartley law. The law forbids union leaders from taking money from management sources.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 19 (AP)—The stock market was mixed today with the aircrafts sharply higher and the oils lower.

The split in direction carried prices up around 2 points at the outside and down between 1 and 2 points in the early afternoon. The pace of trading was below that of Friday when 2,540,000 shares changed hands in a declining market.

Aircrafts were out in front at the start of trading with large blocks on the tape, and the oils moved lower. As trading progressed the split widened.

Also higher were the railroads, motors, and metals. Lower were the steels, and chemicals.

No Murder Evidence

Chicago, July 19 (AP)—Police said they have no evidence of murder, suicide or foul play as investigation into the strange death of mail order heir Montgomery Ward Thorne entered the second month.

The inquest resumed today with seven witnesses called. Including Mrs. Rita Geigner, 50, described as a mystery woman. Coroner Walter E. McCarron has said he suspects foul play in the death of the 20-year-old Thorne nine days after he made a new will virtually disinheriting his mother and making 18-year-old Miss Maureen Ragen principal beneficiary.

A coroner's physician's autopsy report indicated Thorne died of a combination of alcohol, a sleeping pill and morphine, but criticism of the report led to further technical investigation. Thorne's body was exhumed and a panel of pathologists was named to study the case. Their report is expected about the end of this week.

Mrs. Geigner's demand for advance reports on the results of both autopsies prompted McCarron to subpoena her. She described herself as a friend of Mrs. Marion Thorne, mother of the dead youth.

Chance to Pick Leaders

Guatemala, July 19 (AP)—Guatemala's anti-Communist junta took steps today to lop off the Communist leadership of the country's labor unions and give the rank and file a chance to choose leaders free of Red ties. Guatemalan labor leaders, who have been conferring on the issue for the past two days with AFL and CIO emissaries, have agreed to accept a government decree outlawing their executive and national committees.

The decree has been ready since Saturday. Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, president of the ruling junta, held it up until today while the union men formed a provisional committee, charged with reorganizing Guatemala labor along democratic, non-political lines. The Reds dominated the national labor movement under ousted President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's regime.

Hails U. S. Bases

Madrid, Spain, July 19 (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay said today four air bases to be built in Spain shortly will be a welcome addition to the world-wide network of the U. S. Strategic Air Command he heads.

The general made this statement at a news conference just before taking off for Naples. He is on an inspection tour of American air bases in Europe. This was his first visit to Spain. Work on two of the four bases for joint use by the Spanish and Americans is scheduled to begin in September. During his four-day visit here, the general inspected the four base sites from the air during a five-hour flight around Spain. Saturday he paid a courtesy call on Gen. Francisco Franco, chief of state.

Held for Grand Jury

Robert Percy Mowers, 26, of Route 1, Saugerties, was held for the grand jury after he waived examination today before Justice Harold E. Macholdt of the town of Ulster following a charge of grand larceny, second degree, involving the taking of a vehicle owned by William Winne of Route 1, Saugerties.

Mowers was arrested in Kingston by State Troopers H. S. Rhodes and H. F. Reichman following a reported accident near Rustic Rest. Mowers was injured slightly in a three car accident Saturday morning at West Saugerties when a parked car of Alfred Edward Ratta, 26, of Box 259, Saugerties, and the car operated by Mowers collided and the vehicle operated by Mowers struck a northbound car operated by John J. Mongey of West Saugerties.

Ratta was arrested on a charge of driving a vehicle without a license, driving an unregistered vehicle and parking off the highway without lights.

Victory Is Forecast

Washington, July 19 (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California today forecast an administration victory when the chips are down on the much-debated bill to overhaul the basic atomic energy law.

Knowland, scheduling another early session (10 a. m. EDT) in his drive for congressional adjournment the end of this month said he still hoped the Senate would reach the showdown voting stage sometime today. Referring to opposition cries of "giveaway" and "monopoly" against the Eisenhower atomic program during four days of day-and-night debate so far, Knowland told an interviewer: "Actually, I think they've lost some strength in the last few days."

"We are not going to put this aside for other legislation," he added, "and there will be no compromises."

Flood Smashes Town

Richwood, W. Va., July 19 (AP)—A flash flood smashed the central West Virginia town of Richwood today taking at least one life and ruining perhaps one million dollars worth of property. Torrents of water estimated at 10 to 12 feet in depth swept through the town of 5,300 population.

Calls went out to the Red Cross, National Guard and Air National Guard for emergency relief.

A state police radio message was overheard in Charleston about 8 a. m. telling of the recovery of one body and adding others might be dead.

James E. Reed of the National Guard at Richwood said the storm broke about midnight with torrents of rain gushing from thunderous, lightning-crashed skies. The flood waters were from the two branches of the Cherry river. Residents said the disaster was the worst the town has ever seen.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

The big race, on Aug. 7, between the only two men who've run the mile under four minutes—Roger Bannister and John Landy—will be televised by NBC from Vancouver. If this program runs short, it's good.

Willie Mays, the biggest baseball hero of the season, is now the subject of a popular song. It's called "Say, Hey," the title being taken from his favorite expression. The Treniers, on Epic, are recording it, and Willie himself makes a guest appearance on the disc.

There hasn't been a song about baseball since "Joltin' Joe DiMaggio" (unless you count "Diamonds Are a Girl's Best Friend") but this should make it. Jane Douglas, a fine composer, wrote the melody. And the words were written by that master of absolutely nothing, me.

Scratch a glamor gal and you're liable to find almost anything. Denise Darcel, the most delightful Parisian import since French dressing, is generally a bubbly, laughing person. But the other day she somehow got on the subject of her childhood in Paris, and this wasn't glamorous at all.

"You know how I lost my voice?" she asked. She has a husky voice. "I was selling cheese, shouting on the street in front of a shop."

She demonstrated: "Camembert, deux francs; Camembert, deux francs!"

"That's how I got the laryngitis."

She suddenly remembered how she was ashamed of her home, when she first started dating. She used to meet her boy friends somewhere else and, when it came time to be taken home, she'd say she lived in a fine house and they'd take her there. She'd somehow bluff her way inside and kill enough time so her date was out of sight when she was booted out.

"Then I had five blocks walk through not so nice streets," she said, but I couldn't let them see where I really lived."

She worked in a "dime store," selling jam and salt for ration coupons. And, for a while, she worked in a factory that made synthetic soap, but it made her sick, so she got a job "making dishes." She meant washing dishes in a cafe.

She remembered one New Year's Eve, when she was left home to mind a younger sister. In the middle of the night, a pipe burst and the house was flooded. All night long, while her sister cried, she scooped up water. When her parents got home, they scolded her because the floors were wet.

These memories don't come back to Denise Darcel often. Everything's beautiful now. She has money, she drinks the finest wines with lunch, she wears the most fashionable gowns, she lives a good name, and she has one of those expressive, Paul Hartman-type faces, plus a unique voice. The combination had people in his camp from his first entrance. Remember the name.

Jan August, a pianist of the non-bop persuasion, tells of one of his boy cronies who fell in love. And this gone guy played a daisy and, as he pulled the petals off one by one, chanted, "she digs me, she digs me not."

The beauty contestants for the "Miss Universe" beauty contest hit New York and were beautiful beauty contestants, indeed. Miss Belgium, Christine Darney, charmed everyone by answering all questions with either "chicken" or "oh, my dear." Turned out that was all the English she knew. It was enough.

Object on River Bottom Found Not To Be Blackstone

A diver from the Lawrence and Cummings diving firm at Schenectady went down in the Hudson river off the Esopus Meadows last Saturday afternoon to investigate an object which had been hooked by grappling lines in an effort to locate the cruiser Blackstone which sunk in the Hudson after colliding with a barge.

The object was found to be a sunken craft of some kind, apparently an old barge.

Current Hampers Probe

Efforts to go down Saturday morning were hampered by a swift current in the river and a second descent was made about 4 p. m. when the diver remained down about 45 minutes. Diving operations were conducted from a boat of "Chick" Miller and the boat of Walter Seaman of Highland also was used by the men from the Ulster county sheriff's office and the Dutchess county office. Working in conjunction with Sheriff Close of Dutchess county, Sheriff Cluett Schantz, Under Sheriff Clayton W. Vredenburg and County Investigator Arthur Brown were on the job.

Calls More Meetings

Washington, July 19 (AP)—Federal mediator called for more meetings today in their attempts to settle a dispute between American Airlines and its pilots. Mediators spent more than three hours yesterday in separate meetings with the airline and the AFL Airline Pilots Assn. They scheduled similar sessions today, starting at 10 a. m. EDT. The pilots are protesting what they consider excess flying time on non-stop coast-to-coast flights but canceled a strike called for last Thursday. The Civil Aeronautics Board has waived temporary a maximum eight-hour flying day on the coast-to-coast flights. American's non-stop flights take about 8 hours and 35 minutes.

EXAMPLE OF UNJUSTIFIED
SELF-CONSCIOUSNESS

A new bride writes: "I have been married only a short time and already am faced with a problem that is making me very unhappy. My mother-in-law, who is of foreign extraction, but who speaks English perfectly well, has a habit of saying things to my husband in her native tongue. Whenever she does this I can't help but feel that she is talking about me or saying something that she does not want me to hear. I resent this very much and think she is very rude since she knows I do not understand their language. What is your advice in a situation of this kind?"

There is no reason for you to believe she is talking about you. It is merely a case of her being able to talk more easily in her own language. If I were you I would do my best to learn the language as soon as possible. Although it will take some time to speak it well, you will be surprised how quickly you will be able to understand.

Grandparents for Godparents?

Dear Mrs. Post: Are grandparents ever their grandchild's godparents? My husband would like his grandmother and grandfather to be godparents to our first child. I never before have heard of this and do not think it suitable. What is your opinion?

Answer: It is really unsuitable because the object of godparents is to take the place of father and mother in spiritual guidance should they die before the child has been confirmed. The chances are the child will outlive his great grandparents.

Dressed for Breakfast

Dear Mrs. Post: When staying in someone's house is it proper to come to the breakfast table with a bathrobe or housecoat over one's nightgown or pajamas, or must one be fully dressed?

Answer: You must be fully dressed, definitely unless the hostess has told you otherwise the night before.

Twenty important questions regarding serving are included in Mrs. Post's booklet No. 504, "The Etiquette of Table Setting." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Marie Dionne Is Home; Family Say
She Was Lonely

Waterloo, Que., July 19 (P)—Marie Dionne, the quintuplet who took a nun's first vows two months ago, has left the convent and gone home. A church official said she had departed temporarily for health reasons but her family said she was homesick.

The palace of the Roman Catholic Archbishop in Quebec issued this comment: "It is not known at this time if she will return."

The Mother Superior at the Quebec Convent of the Servants of the Blessed Sacrament, which Marie entered as a postulant last November, said the 20-year-old girl left there Wednesday.

Marie's brother-in-law, Maurice Girouard, said at his home here she arrived at her parent's home in Callander, Ont., early yesterday accompanied by three brothers and her quintuplet sister Emilie. The latter hit the headlines herself when she became lost in Montreal Friday en route to join Marie.

Rumors Were Spread

Commenting on that incident, Girouard said: "Apparently all kinds of rumors started to spread when Emilie approached a policeman in Montreal. The girl simply identified herself and asked for directions. She was visiting friends in Ste. Agathe (Que.) and was on her way to St. Charles, Que., to meet Marie."

The brother-in-law said Marie had come to his home from the convent and that Emilie had joined her here Saturday.

Girouard said Marie—smallest of the quintuplets at birth seemed confused and homesick. He added he did not know whether she planned to go back to the Cloister, where she took two-year vows of poverty, chastity and obedience on May 24.

Father Is Quoted

The Montreal Gazette quoted the quintuplets' father, Oliver, as saying Marie had written him last week complaining of homesickness.

"I suspected from her unhappy letter that she was trying to decide whether to remain in the Cloisters or come back," the Gazette quoted him.

Life at the convent was described as "not difficult or hard," but it was along austere lines. With other white-garbed nuns, Marie spent her days in prayer and silent work on priest's vestments, altar clothes and similar duties.

Since their birth in 1934, the quintuplets have amassed a sizeable fortune in advertising contracts. Most of the money is held in a trust fund set up for them by the Canadian government. As a nun pledged to poverty, Marie would not have been able to receive her share.

Cecile and Annette attend the institute Familial at Nicolet, in northern Quebec, where Emilie has been a domestic science student. Yvonne is studying fine arts at Notre Dame convent in Montreal.

See That Junior Reads

By FRANK TRIPP

The chore of parenthood became vastly more intricate with the advent of television. It never was simple to wheedle youngsters into reading and homework. Now it approaches a task for a genius.

The day when Junior would speed forth in the family car used to be the dread of every household. Television has moved anxiety ahead at least ten years for a parent who has dreams to rear a boy or girl equipped to take a worthwhile place in our complex society. They must read to get there.

The scene in the average home today is a far cry from young Abraham Lincoln, prone on a log cabin floor, eagerly searching knowledge from borrowed books by the flickering light of a fireplace.

The scene is less disturbing than the lazy era it depicts, the habits it instills. Our kids still sprawl on the floor full length as did young Abe; but there is little yen for knowledge—mostly insatiable desire for amusement, without effort; neglect even of body-building play.

ALL AROUND THEM are publications and books for which Lincoln would have given his eyeteeth. One's guess is as good as another's whether or not there ever would have been an Abraham Lincoln had he been beset by the diversions which surround our youth.

The odds are high that no diversion could overcome the ambition of a Lincoln, then or now. But what of the millions of others without such capacity and urge to learn?

This is no indictment of television or the formula it must pursue to be acceptable. Neither is it a diatribe advocating all work and no play. Some of television is grand for kids. Play and diversion are essentials to a full life. The joker lies in the prescription and control of the dosage.

RIGHT THERE rests the obligation of the parent, and a new problem, vastly more complicated than ever in the past. We all know men who have blundered through life half equipped; failures compared to what they might have been, because of the parent's neglect.

IF I WERE INTERESTED IN HEATING OR Air Conditioning I'D CALL J. ELLIS BRIGGS, Inc. KINGSTON 7072

cause of the indulgence of their parents in their childhood. We even know those who curse their parents for their laxity.

Such dismal cases came from days of few diversions compared to now. Temptations to be lax with children then did not beset every waking hour, stand on every street corner, in every garage, in every living room, to distract youngsters from the essential things they should be doing to develop their minds and bodies.

HOURS THAT BELONG to play, reading and homework are being spent absorbing pictures and stories which contribute nothing to their future, some which children might better not see and hear.

It seems so easy, such a slick way to keep the kids occupied, while we too enjoy ourselves. Yet it engenders indolence and habits that may wreck our children's lives. Most dangerous is the lazy habit of watching and listening, at the expense of reading, which is the very foundation of education.

THE MORE youngsters read, beginning as tots with Mother Goose and Peter Rabbit, mounting gradually as their minds develop, the more will they read and learn through life; by searching knowledge rather than accidentally encountering it on a picture screen.

The sooner they must leave school, the more important reading becomes. Successful people never stop reading—textbooks, classics, old masters for their foundation; newspapers, magazines and current literature to be abreast of the era in which they must compete.

There are few places, none at the top, for the person who doesn't know what's going on in the world. He can't converse intelligently; without the newspaper, not even about his own neighbors.

KNOWLEDGE IS FREE to every youth who will read; none is so doomed as one who will not. That which one reads cannot be tainted by the suavity or whims of an airy narrator. Only savages hand down shifty legends by word of mouth.

Parents who condone or abet ignorance of the printed word, both past and current, are more than enemies of their own kin. They are enemies of society. If you love your children, insist that they read. Some day they will bless you for it. And remember that the newspaper is the poor man's university. (Copyright, 1954, General Features Corporation)

THE TWAIN DO MEET OCCASIONALLY

At Lindy's the other night, a fellow who works for the Air Transport Command told me two little stories about World War 2, and on the off-chance that you're fed up with big stories about World War 2 here they are.

The first tiny tale is about an emergency landing field which the ATC set up in 1942 to service planes on the run between the Gold Coast and Cairo. It was located near Maidugeri in Upper Nigeria, an outpost in the dark core of darkest Africa.

An officer and 18 men were assigned to operate the field, and to keep their morale from going to pot their colonel promised that their stint in the steamy jungle would be limited to three months. "But you'll have to go easy on your K-rations," he warned them. "They're in short supply."

When the gloomy detachment landed at Maidugeri, they found no jungle and no steam. Instead, the area around the airstrip looked like a classy suburb of the Garden of Eden, and the territory a few miles out was even more exciting. It was laced with clear trout streams and the woods abounded with game on hoof and on wing.

As if that weren't enough, the British had once tried ranching in the district, and the cattle and horses they had left behind were all over the place. All a man had to do to round up a horse and go after said beefsteak with a rope. As for the climate, it was Chamber-of-Commerce perfect, 75 degrees by day and 50 by night.

A week after the men arrived, they had a herd of dairy cows. A month after, they had a corral of blooded horses and a four-team polo league. When the colonel dropped in one day, they paraded before him on horseback—the only cavalry unit in the history of the American Air Force. As it turned out, however, Maidugeri was too good for its own good. News of this African paradise grapevined among the pilots on the Gold Coast run, and soon plane after plane began to develop "engine trouble" in the neighborhood of the emergency field. To hear the airmen explain it, the carburetors of their C-47's were forever getting clogged by the fumes of antelope filets, broiled avocados and candied yams.

Because of "engine trouble" and the shifting patterns of war, Maidugeri was closed down some months later, and the 20 soldiers planed back to the Gold Coast, taking the still-unopened K-rations with them. According to the officer in charge, they were the most obedient body of men he had ever commanded. The colonel had told them to go easy on their K-rations, and they had.

The second tiny tale is about a lad named Dave Abrahams, an air force clerk-typist, who was transferred from Casablanca to a sandy installation on the outskirts of Matruh, the capital of the desert Sultanate of Trucial Oman in southern Arabia. The temperature was 120 when the GI arrived, and the sergeant who met him assured him they were in the middle of a cold spell.

As Dave sat typing the next day, the major in command spotted the newcomer and asked him an odd question: "Can you play chess?"

"Yes sir," said Dave. "I play a pretty fair game." "The Sultan of Trucial Oman is a bug on chess," said the major, "and there's no one in the outfit to play with him. I'm assigning you to the palace." Well, the Sultan—Said bin Taimur was his name—turned out to be a pretty good egg under his burnoose. He had four wives and 30 dancing girls but, as he put it, "Who wants to dance all the time?"

For several months, Dave and the Sultan traded pawns and small talk, and a warm friendship grew up between the two men. And as might be expected, relations between the United States and Trucial Oman were never more cordial.

A year later, when Dave was ordered back to Casablanca, the Sultan decorated him with a silver medal—the first time the Star of Trucial Oman had ever been awarded to an "infidel." Deeply moved, Dave thanked his chess partner and said he wished he could reciprocate—but what could a private give a potentate?

The Sultan pointed to a small metallic object which hung on a chain around Dave's neck. Abrahams promptly handed it over, and Said bin Taimur promised he would wear it all ways.

And so it is that today, somewhere on the hate-torn Arabian peninsula, a Mohammedan Sultan is wearing around his neck a medal presented by a GI. (Copyright, 1954, by Billy Rose) (Distributed by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Lake Katrine Man Named to County Farm Committee

Frank Aldrich of Lake Katrine is the newly appointed member of the Ulster County Farmers Home Administration Committee, F. A. Norman, the agency's county supervisor announced this week. The appointment is effective for the fiscal year beginning July 1, and the two following years. Aldrich operates a dairy and poultry farm and is well acquainted with the agricultural problems of Ulster county.

The other two members of the committee are Benjamin Van Wagenen of Route 3, Kingston, and Vernon Barnhart of Stone Ridge. Van Wagenen operates a dairy and poultry farm and in addition grows considerable sweet corn. Barnhart and his son operate a large dairy farm and have bred a high producing herd of Holstein cows. Each member of the committee is named for a three year term, one appointment expires each year and no member can succeed himself.

Every agricultural county in New York state has such a committee to help the Farmers' Home Administration county supervisor adapt the agency's loan policies to local conditions, including farm credit needs. During the past year, the Kingston office approved 26 operating loans out of a total of 42 applications and loaned a total of $67,345. In addition two special livestock loans were made in the amount of $8,550 and one farm housing loan in the amount of $8,700. Approximately 10 applications are now pending.

The Farmers' Home Administration makes loans to family-type farm operators to buy, improve, or operate family-type farms. Special livestock loans are made where temporary credit is needed in counties or states that have been designated by the Secretary of Agriculture as emergency areas. The agency does not make loans to any applicant where needs can be handled by other local credit sources. Before any money can be borrowed through the agency, an applicant must have the approval of the county committee. In the case of a farm ownership loan, the farm to be purchased, enlarged, or improved must also be approved by the committee, the county supervisor explained.

The Farmers' Home Administration office at 54 John street, serves the counties of Dutchess, Greene, Sullivan and Ulster.

Reis Hurls No-Hit, No-Run Game as St. Joseph's Cops CYO Title

Faces Only 23 Batters, Fans 12 In Stadium Game

Double Win Sets Stage For Big Sunday Game

Frank Reis pitched a no-hit, no-run game Sunday as St. Joseph's CYO baseball team won the 1954 county championship with a 11-0 rout of St. Colman's of East Kingston.

Later in the day, St. Joseph's trounced Immaculate Conception, 16-6.

Their next stop is a Sunday (July 25) date with the Borough of Manhattan CYO champions in the Archdiocesan semi-finals at Dietz Stadium.

The slick high school southpaw faced only 23 batters in the regulation seven-inning contest. He walked two, struck out 12 and collected a triple in two official trips to the plate.

St. Joseph's assailed N. Jones for 14 safeties and scored in five of their six turns at bat.

Bob Fay, Ronnie Ashdown, Pete Blanchan, and Frank Secreto each had two hits, including doubles. Secreto powered a triple. Jones walked five and fanned three.

In the nightcap, Reis pitched two innings and collaborated with Joe Pino for a six-hit job on Immaculate Conception in an easy 11-4 victory. The losers failed to score after the second inning, while St. Joe's clustered four runs in the sixth and seventh innings.

Joe Modica led the St. Joseph's attack with a double and three singles in five trips. John Godwin had a double and two solos. Don Ferraro and Pino hit safely twice.

The Indians climbed into first place over the cellar-dwelling Yankees, 16-11, in weekend action in the Esopus Legion Little League.

The Giants also improved their standings by shading the Yankees, 9-8. For the Tribe it was their fourth win in the five starts. The losers were dropping their fifth in a row.

Two big innings—a seven-run first and five-run fourth—offset a six-run rally by the Yankees and made it easy going for the Indians in their first win.

They collected 11 hits, including a homer by Bernie Brown and a single, double and triple by Bob Robinson off Billy Boss, who fanned nine. Brown and Ray Gillard allowed eight safeties. John Reinhardt cracked a triple and two singles for the Yankees. John Dailey and Bill Boss each had two safeties and Gene Nilan hit a pair of solos for the Indians.

Moore-Stanky Feud Explodes In Fist Fight at St. Louis; Cardinals Forfeit to Phils

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Eddie Stanky, scrappy manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, boils on the hot seat today after a fist fight with Terry Moore, the man he fired as coach, and a forfeiture to the Phillies for delaying tactics.

Stanky and Moore, new manager of Philadelphia, tangled in the midst of one of St. Louis' worst ball field riots in years yesterday to climax a flaming two-year-old feud.

After Moore was fired in 1952, he departed from his normal mild ways to blast Stanky. "When he loses a ball game he acts more like a 9-year-old boy than a manager," Moore said. "The job is too big for him. Stanky is temperamentally unsuited for the job of manager."

Fireworks were expected when Moore, named manager Thursday, met Stanky's Cardinals for the first time yesterday.

Coming from behind three times, the Phils pulled out the first game 11-9 in 10 innings on a double by Smokey Burgess and a single by Bobby Morgan.

The second game didn't start until after 6 p. m. (local time), so lights could not be turned on under National League rules. With darkness approaching in the fifth and the Phils leading 8-1 with one man on base and two out, Stanky brought in two new pitchers.

When he waved for a third, umpire Babe Pinelli walked to the field telephone and notified the press box that the game was forfeited to Philadelphia, 9-0. It was the first forfeiture in the majors since 1949.

Stanky protested the game, claiming Pinelli had exceeded his authority.

Catcher Sal Yvars of the Cardinals and first baseman Earl Torgerson of the Phils touched off the big battle when they argued and squared off a few moments before the forfeiture.

Moore, ex-Cardinal great, tumbled out of the dugout and grabbed Yvars. Then Stanky tackled Moore. Moore came up with a dirty face and scratches on his neck. Stanky has a mouse under his right eye and a scratch on his neck. Players from both teams were on the field, punching and wrestling, before police broke it up and escorted the men off the field.

Tigers Stop Yanks
In the day's baseball action, Cleveland held the American League lead by a half game as both the Indians and New York Yankees split doubleheaders. The Yanks went out in front briefly for the first time since April 22, by winning the first from Detroit 6-0 on Harry Byrd's five-hitter, while Washington was thumping Cleveland 8-3. Cleveland rebounded into the lead by winning their second game 7-4 as the Yanks' 13-game winning streak was snapped by Detroit 8-6.

Chicago's White Sox took a pair from feeble Philadelphia 10-2 and 4-3 although Paul Richards drew complaints for stalling in the second game. The White Sox lead 8-5 in the eighth when Richards changed pitchers twice and called for a third. Then the 6:50 p. m. (EDT) curfew stopped action and the score reverted to the end of the last full inning the seventh.

The Boston Red Sox shut out Baltimore 4-0 on a one-hitter by Russ Kemmerer in his first major league start but the Orioles won the second game 4-1 on Duane Pillette's five-hit pitching.

Mays Hits 33rd
In the national league race, New York split two at Cincinnati, losing 14-4 in the first game and winning 3-1 on Willie Mays' 33rd homer and Monte Irvin's 17th. Since Brooklyn thumped Chicago 12-6 on homers by Roy Campanella, Duke Snider and Carl Furillo, the Giants lead was clipped a half game to six full games. Milwaukee had to settle for an even break with the last place Pittsburgh Pirates. Warren Spahn needed relief help from Ernie Johnson to hold the first game 4-1 but the Pirates scored six runs in the second inning on the way to a 7-5 victory in the second game.

Union Offers Big Loan to Hat Firm To Halt Layoffs

New York, July 19 (AP)—The AFL Hatters Union has offered to lend $250,000 to a big women's hat manufacturer in order to prevent large-scale layoffs by the firm.

Plans for the loan were disclosed Saturday by Alex Rose, president of the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International Union. The money would go to the Kartiganer Hat Corp., which produces six million dollars worth of women's hats a year in plants at West Upton and Milford, Mass., and Beacon, N. Y.

Rose said the union arranged for the loan after learning that creditors had told the company it must close two plants and lay off two thirds of its 1,050 workers.

Loan Is Approved
A creditors committee has already approved the union loan and agreed to withdraw demands for the layoffs, but the plan still must be ratified by the full group of creditors sometime this week.

The union offered the loan on condition that there will be no cuts in wages and working conditions and that a union account be allowed in the company offices to watch the union's investment. The union wage scales range from $1.25 to $3 an hour.

Rose said the company's financial troubles stem from a springtime drop in sales which caught the firm in an over-extended position.

He added that the union was making the loan despite serious financial troubles of its own—the result of a recent 14-month strike against the Hat Corp. of America at Norwalk, Conn.

$200,000 From Workers
Rose said the union itself planned to put up only $50,000 of the loan. The remaining $200,000 would come from individual workers, each of whom would contribute $200 in personal funds.

The plan was approved by the union's general executive board and then endorsed by workers at the three plants, many of whose families have been in the hat-making business since the Beacon and West Upton plants were built a century ago.

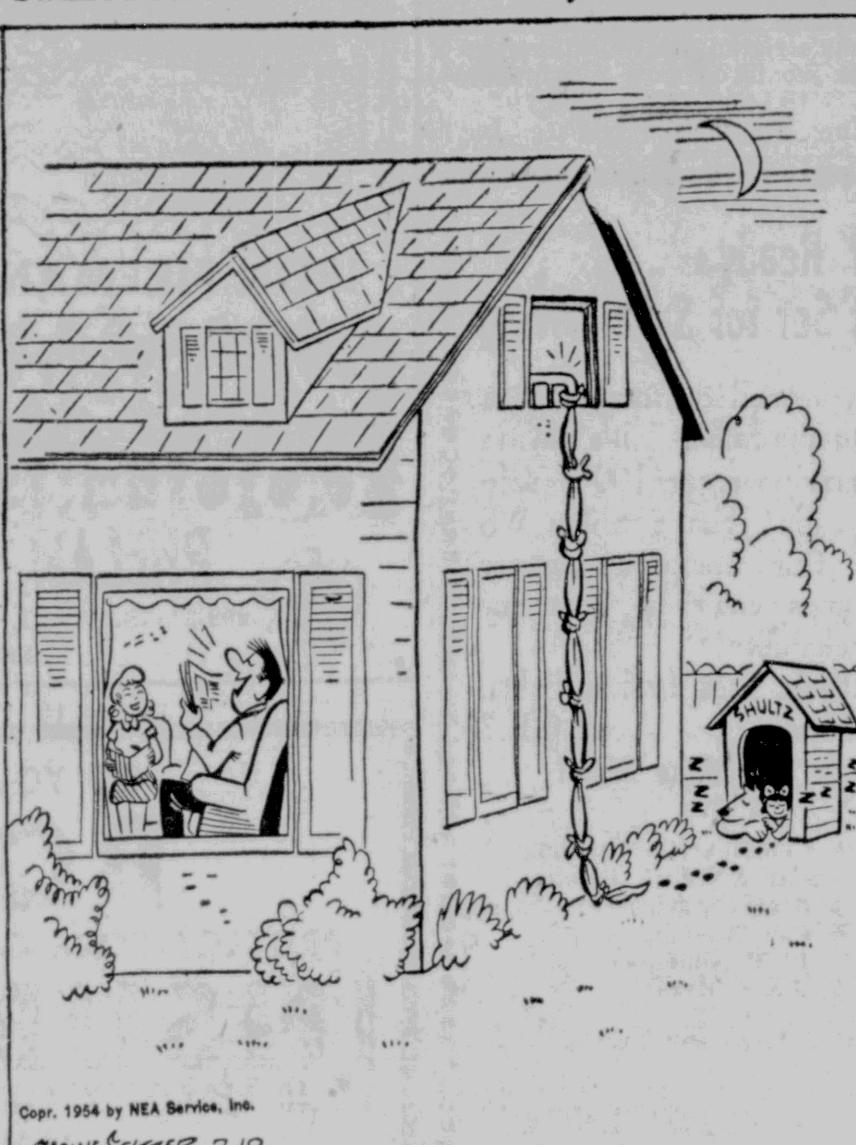

Rose described the loan as "a case of helping an employer in order to help ourselves."

Company President Charles H. Kartiganer added: "This is a very happy example of labor-management cooperation to keep a company in business and protect the jobs of people who have hat-making in their blood."

July 4 is celebrated as Independence Day in the Philippines where formal independence was granted July 4, 1946.

STOCK PRICES

Stock prices are at 1929 levels. They were high until October, 1929, when the bottom dropped out of the stock market. For over 3 years, a crushing deflation ensued.

It is only natural, then, that today thousands of people, recalling those days, are asking: "Are stock prices too high and are they headed for another tumble?" To answer this question logically, one must consider many statistical data.

Money is one. In 1929 there was no government regulation of credit. In 1954 there is. Twenty-five years ago, an investor could buy $10,000 worth of stocks with a 10 per cent margin—$1,000. Today, he must put up $5,000 (a 50 per cent margin). That is all to the good.

In 1929, brokers' loans (speculative credit) hit $8,000,000,000. Today, they are a fraction of this amount. Cash buying of stocks is the rule and not the exception.

And in 25 years, the supplies of money available for investment and speculation have halved. In 1929, government "savings bonds" of our present character were unknown. Today, there are over $58,000,000,000 of them outstanding. My fan mail brings me countless letters reading like this: "I have $1,000; $2,000; $5,000 of money in hand from matured savings bonds. What shall I invest it in?"

Bank deposits are in the skies. Today, they total more than $197,000,000,000! Thus, dollars in savings bonds and in banks total more than $255,000,000,000! There are oceans of money awaiting investment and speculation. If some of this goes to work, the Dow-Jones industrial averages will advance 100 points. And I think this will happen.

Comparing the national economy of 1929 with that of 1954, from the standpoint of size and character, is a fruitless task. It was like a pygmy in 1929; it is a growing giant in 1954.

Let me illustrate. In 1929, General Motors did a $1,500,000,000 business; in 1953, $10,000,000,000—an increase of 600 per cent. No wonder General Motors stockholders have done well for years and years.

In 1929, General Electric did a $415,000,000 business. Last year it hit $3,125,000,000—a gain of 700 per cent.

In 1929, Du Pont sold about $125,000,000 of products. In 1953, this had jumped to $1,750,000,000—over 1,000 per cent growth in 25 years.

In 1929, Standard Oil of New Jersey turned in $1,500,000,000 of business. Last year it was $4,000,000,000.

Is America going to stop growing? Decidedly, no! Are good stock prices too high? Maybe, temporarily. But what of the long pull? Well, they are the values that all investors should buy with some of their savings.

Anybody who happens to buy good stocks at too high prices should exercise patience if prices fall off. For the growth of America is as sure as the rising of the sun and this growth will eventually catch up and pass any reasonable prices an investor pays for his shares.

Money and the underlying economic situation in America compel me to answer the question: "Are stock prices too high?" "Decidedly, no, if one has a correct perspective!"

The bidding of today's hand was energetic, but not outrageous. When South overcalled with one spade, North knew that the combined hands would be good for a slam if his partner had some club strength and a singleton in heart or even some diamond strength with favorable distribution and a favorable opening lead.

When the hand was actually played, declarer got the favorable opening lead. West made the routine opening lead of the ten of hearts. Declarer won with dummy's ace of hearts, got to his hand with a trump, and cashed the ace of diamonds to discard a club from the dummy.

Declarer was delighted to see the ten of diamonds dropped from the East hand, and he hoped to lead a low diamond, ruffing in dummy. The queen of diamonds dropped on this trick, and declarer got back by ruffing a heart in order to ruff another diamond in the dummy.

By this time the jack of diamonds was set up, and declarer got back once more by ruffing a heart in order to cash the jack of diamonds. Dummy was able to discard a second club on this trick, and declarer was able to concede one club and claim the rest of the tricks.

There is no doubt that South was lucky to make this slam contract. Part of the luck was that West made a wooden opening lead.

When reasonably sensible opponents jump to a slam without exploratory bids, it is usually sound policy to make an unexpected lead. If the opponents are not crazy they expect to have some play for the slam contract against the expected opening lead.

In this case the heart was the expected opening lead. West should have opened the ace of clubs in the hope of finding two quick tricks to defeat the contract. If West had led the ace of clubs, East would have played the encouraging finespot to ask for a club continuation. Two fast club tricks would have defeated South before he could get started.

New York Fires Were 149 Daily
New York, July 19 (AP)—Firemen fought 54,392 fires in the world's biggest city last year—an average of 149 fires a day.

The number was up 1,651 over the previous year, but Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr., said in his annual report yesterday that damage was $3,615,497 less—a total of $23,332,565.

Fires took 137 lives in the year, 10 of them firemen. Careless smokers started 6,592 fires, the biggest single cause. Children playing with matches started 680 fires.

Of 78,031 alarms turned in, 15,045 were false—an increase of 1,064 in the number of times citizens yelled "fire!" When there was none.

Other "alarms" occasionally called for firemen to rescue pets or perform different services other than fighting fires.

Wealthy Widow Weds Dentist

West Palm Beach, Fla., July 19 (AP)—Mrs. Estelle Auguste, wealthy, 43-year-old Palm Beach widow, and Dr. Warner Tufel, a Swiss dentist, were married here yesterday in a brief ceremony in the bride's apartment.

Most of Palm Beach society was away for the summer, so only a few friends attended.

Mrs. Auguste, who made headlines twice in recent years, said she met her 34-year-old husband five years ago in his home town of Vevey in Switzerland.

The couple will leave Tuesday for New York and sail for Switzerland Friday.

In 1947, Mrs. Auguste threatened to bombard Jose Iturbi with ripe fruit because she said the pianist snubbed her dinner party.

Last December, she reported her engagement to Jack Dempsey. But they broke it off after a meeting in New York.

Mrs. Auguste is the widow of Harmon Spencer Auguste, a banker and director of the May Co. who died four years ago.

Scarsdale Man Has Port Office

New York, July 19 (AP)—Daniel N. Mandell, of Scarsdale, has been appointed director of operations of the Port of New York Authority.

Mandell now is deputy director and acting director. He joined the port authority staff in 1947 as chief of the Division of Surveys and Budget Control.

From 1943 to 1947 he had been an administrative analyst in the Bureau of the Budget in the executive office of the President of the United States. He also had served in other U. S. government offices.

Mandell, a native of Mount Vernon, is married and has four children.

Mrs. Small Says

30 miles away on the shore of Lake Michigan.

She left her seclusion when the verdict was announced and visited her husband at the jail.
They reportedly embraced and she begged forgiveness. Then the 31-year-old dentist thanked her for testifying during the five-day murder trial.

Allegan County Sheriff Walter Runkel said Dr. Small was light-hearted and smiling yesterday when visitors called at the jail.

The sheriff said Small is definitely making plans to resume his marriage "and he'll be the happiest boy in the world to get her back."

But the dentist told reporters:
"It's too early to say. We've both got a lot of thinking to do."

Dr. Small was sent back to jail following the trial to await action by his attorney Leo Hoffman who said he intends to ask a sanity commission hearing
Wednesday.

The law specifies that Mr.
Small be committed to an institution. But if the commission finds him sane, he goes free.

Police Seek

He paid rent through Friday. He did not check out, and maids did not enter the room until Sunday.
The maids noticed an odor coming from the dresser and called a houseboy. He opened the drawer and found the body, clad in a slip, brassiere and panties. Coronor Roy B. Storms estimated the girl had been dead 36 hours.

The girl's blue jeans and slippers and a shopping bag were found hidden in an air vent closet in the room.

Miss Poore was registered at the Lorraine Hotel, a block from Claypool. She had planned to return to Clinton Saturday night and then to come back here this week to look for work again.

Mrs. Poore said her daughter had told of being annoyed by two men during an earlier job-hunting stay in this city.

Millions Fight Flood

Hong Kong, July 19 (AP)—Communist Radio Hupch at Hankow said today more than a million volunteers are working day and night to stem flood waters of the Han and Yangtze rivers in Hupeh province. The radio said the flood disaster was "far over all previous historical records."

It added a million volunteers were repairing dikes for a distance of 470 miles along both river banks.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

I wonder how many folks remember when "Gus, the Florist" was at 142 Broadway in Rondout. I remember, because I still have his business card which was attached to a basket of flowers I received from a friend, at KHS graduation. According to The Daily News of Wednesday, July 7, 1954, August Wunder who lived at Passaic, N. J., died Monday at the Passaic General Hospital. He was the father of George Wunder who draws the world famous cartoon, Terry and the Pirates for the News. I do not know the years that George Wunder was in Kingston but folks remember him here. No doubt many were students in his classes. I wonder if he drew pictures in school, who remembers?
He certainly made a name for himself and his cartoons are enjoyed in all parts of the globe. I wonder if anyone of the readers of this column keeps a list of those who went through our local school system and later became national or world famous like George Wunder.

Looking through The Kingston Weekly Freeman of Thursday, Dec. 12, 1907, I ran across the following resolution by the Kingston Board of Trade:
"Whereas, the 250th Anniversary of the founding of Kingston will occur on May 31, 1908, and whereas, we believe this beginning of our local habitation is worthy of commemoration, therefore be it Resolved that the Board of Trade of the City of Kingston raise by subscription a fund of $2,500 towards the expenses of such celebration as shall be determined upon by a committee of our citizens to be appointed at a public meeting to be called as soon as the above amount is pledged."

The item further said: "Be it also resolved that this Board respectfully petition the mayor and Common Council to appropriate the sum of $1,000, for the same purpose." The sum of $700 was pledged at that meeting and the following committee were appointed to solicit the rest:
"John H. Gregory, Herbert Carl,
R. B. Osterhoudt, S. E. Eighmey,
W. P. Crane, N. D. J. Murphy,
John E. Kraft, and William Davis." The item further explained: "The celebration is in commemoration of the gathering of the settlers of the vicinity of Kingston at that time, and the which was included in the stockade built by Gov. Peter Stuyvesant May 31, 1658, after an attack by the Indians." So perhaps in 1958 on the 31 of May we may again have another such celebration, which according to this item would make it 300 years.

There is an item on berry growing and selling as it was 100 years ago or to be exact
May 1, 1855 when $45 was paid for 1,000 Antwerp red raspberry plants. There were two trips a week made by barges towed by Rondout steamers to New York which took the berries down the river. It said, that the boats would not stop for the berries where they were grown so the berries had to be taken to Milton where even there the tow of barges did not pull up to the dock. "He would take his fruit out in a yawl boat, wait on the river, and when the steamboats came along they would stop.
He would row alongside and hand up the fruit." The first berries shipped from here were put in a small handle basket made from little willow twigs, holding about a pint. They went for about four cents each. Each basket was marked with the grower's name so the commission merchant in New York knew to whom to send the checks. These baskets went into chests which held from 100 to 150. Freight was 25 cents on each chest. They were pad-locked.

Foxes do not hibernate and are as active in winter as in summer, even in cold climates.

As Pegler Sees It

the east and maneuvered him into Russia.

"Pegler took over and every day the veteran wrote, under Hellinger's name, an entertaining and often dumfounding travelogue of the Broadway bard's experiences in the land of the Soviet, through the punjab and across the mountains of Tibet.

"One afternoon while Pegler was propelling our Broadway philosopher along the great wall of China, Mark called me in a bland voice from his apartment.
He had come home unannounced and had been recapturing lost sleep for five days. Vienna had stopped him. We kept him in hiding until Pegler hauled him across the Pacific and flew him home for a globe-trotting record. A number of editors wrote us that the Hellinger copy had broadened the minds of many readers."

Later Whittaker and Jo Swerling took turns writing installments of a work called "Shebo."
Whittaker had missed three turns while covering Gerald Chapman's trial for murder at Hartford and got an ultimatum from Swerling one evening after court. The story had to close and Whittaker was stuck for the final chapter. He sat on an upended suitcase in "Gene Stanley's crowded hotel room; slaughtered a number of supernumeraries in the "Shebo" cast and filed the final chapter on time. They got $30,000 for the movie rights and Whittaker quit his job to compose a symphony.
